

Patrick Falvey, Ph.D.
Senior Vice President & Chief Integration Officer

Patrick is senior vice president and chief integration officer for Aurora Health Care, and works in partnership with clinical leadership to direct clinical improvement, decision support, medical management, credentialing and disease management. With a keen eye on achieving best practice through process improvement, he is responsible for operations improvement and productivity. Patrick feels that the more we can share and learn from ourselves and be consistent throughout Aurora, will not only allow us to more quickly achieve our goals and objectives, but will truly lead to a better experience for our patients, their families and the community.

Since becoming an Aurora caregiver in 1992, Patrick has always had a direct connection with our values. Regardless of what he's involved in, he strives to find the best and then exceed it, to work effectively as a team, and to find the most efficient way. Truly believing the patient is the priority makes improving the patient experience that much more motivating for Patrick. Interacting with caregivers who are enthusiastic about their ideas for change, who are excited about being given the chance to help in improvement, and who are motivated to help the patients experience is contagious, and motivates Patrick to support them as much as possible.

Patrick feels a direct connection with the values of the Children's Community Center in Menomonee Falls. Their desire is to help all children achieve their maximum, provide a safe, stimulating and developmentally appropriate environment that is responsive to cultural and ethnic diversity, and be good stewards of their resources. Patrick has been involved with the non-profit child care center for over 11 years, and currently serves as board president.

How Patrick looks at and gets involved in activities are directly influenced by his grandfather. He focused on continuous learning and application along with a good work ethic, always asking Patrick and his siblings what they learned each day and how they used that knowledge.

Patrick resides in Menomonee Falls with his wife of 15 years, Suzanne. They have a daughter Jenelle age 11 and a son Gavin age 7. Both Patrick and his wife are very involved in coaching and helping out in their children's activities. They spend a lot of time together as a family, going to the lake to fish, swim and tube. With his true personal time, Patrick likes to golf, fish and read, particularly about U.S. Presidents. He has read at least one book on every president and is two-thirds of the way through a second read on each of the presidents.
