

Shouldn't you be able to see your doctor, before you pick your doctor?

We think so.

It's been said that your health is your greatest asset. And good health is key to a good life. So why do some of us tend to select our physicians so casually? Maybe we choose a physician from a co-worker's recommendation. Or at random from a list in a directory. There's got to be a better way.

Now there is. Aurora Physician Preview videos. These videos let you meet doctors right in the comfort and convenience of your own home – on videotape. And from these videos you'll get to know the doctors' personalities as they talk about their education, experience and practice styles – taking the guesswork out of the whole process.
