

Learn more about Infertility

Provided to you by Ask the Librarian!
A service of the Aurora Libraries

Websites

asrm.org The American Society for Reproductive Medicine is an organization dedicated to the advancement of the science and practice of reproductive medicine. Explore the links to other organizations concerned with infertility issues. Easily accessible on this site are fact sheets and videos on numerous fertility topics.

AuroraHealthCare.org Explore the Aurora Health Care website for information on fertility. Enter “infertility” in the search box to be linked to information on this topic.

cdc.gov/art/PatientResources.htm The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention has informative videos and fact sheets to assist in your assisted reproductive technology decisions.

resolve.org The National Infertility Association provides infertility education, support, publications and advocacy for women and men facing infertility. The Infertility 2.0 section brings you the latest in infertility related blogs, videos, RSS feeds, news and more.

nlm.nih.gov/medlineplus/infertility.html MedlinePlus will answer your questions about infertility. Choose from many links under broad categories such as: overviews, latest news, diagnosis/symptoms and treatment. Click “Espanol” in the upper right for the Spanish version.

Local resources

Aurora Fertility Services offers comprehensive fertility solutions through our team of reproductive endocrinologists and embryologists. Aurora Fertility Services, Milwaukee, 8901 W. Lincoln Avenue, 2nd floor, West Allis, WI 53227. Call 414-329-4300. Aurora Fertility Services, Green Bay, 2845 Greenbrier Road, Suite 350, Green Bay, WI 54311. Call 920-288-8500.

Books

Be Fruitful: The Essential Guide to Maximizing Fertility and Giving Birth to a Healthy Child by Victoria Maizes, MD, Scribner, 2013, ISBN 9781451645477, $20. Dr. Maizes shows how nutrition, mind-body practices, and elimination of environmental toxins can all contribute to a successful pregnancy.

Budgeting for Infertility: How to Bring Home a Baby without Breaking the Bank by Evelina Weidman Sterling and Angie Best-Boss, Fireside Press, 2009, ISBN 1416566589, $16. With anecdotes, interviews, and advice from the authors and patients, this book will help you apply specific money-saving strategies and get the most from your fertility treatments.

Making Babies: A Proven 3-month Program for Maximum Fertility by Sami S. David, Little, Brown, and Co., 2009, ISBN 9780316024501, $25.99. An alternative to assisted reproductive technology is offered by two noted practitioners in the fertility field. Included are a combination of nutrition, exercise, herbal formulas, acupuncture, and blood testing to detect abnormalities that would prevent pregnancy.

100 Questions and Answers About Infertility by John D. Gordon, Jones & Bartlett Publishing, 2010, ISBN 9780763791087, $22.95. In its second edition, this book provides authoritative answers to 100 of the most common questions asked by individuals and couples about infertility.

Books on this topic are available for checkout from Aurora Libraries and may be available at your public library.